NUHEADQUARTERS AND NO MANAGER

Governor 'Marshall Hasn't Even Any Money to Put in Campaign.

Washington, April 5.—And now comes another Democratic presidential candidate to town. The woods have been full of 'em bereabouts, Harmon, Wilson, Underwood and Clark all being here this week, while to-day tovernor, Marshall, of Indiana, arrived. He came In this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Marshall, and will remain over Sanday.

Marshall, and will remain over Sunday.

"I am not a presidential candidate in the sense of actively chasing the nomination," said Governor Marshall and the New Milard this morning, "indiant Democrats say they want me, and I believe they mean it. But I have no headquarters, no campaign manager and no campaign money. The conjy way the nomination is likely to come to me is through a deadlock in the convention, with attention turning to Indiana.

"I do not regret that I have no money to use in sexking the nomination I would not be under obligation to any man or set of men through money contributed to secure my nonmation, for even a little child knows there is a string to it in such cases. I haven't any money of my own, and I wouldn't take it from o'ners.

"But there is momething worse even than using money in prenomination campaigns, and that is to give promises of appointments to office. I think that is more democralizing than the spending of money.

"I believe in campaign publicity before the election, and I favor publicity before nomination, too. The people are entitled to know where the money has come from that is used to forward the nomination of candidotas."

New York, April 5.—Rear-Admiral Robert E. Feary, retired, who discovered the North Pole, is of the opinion that both Amundsen, the Northestan and Captain Scott, the Englishman, and Captain Scott, the Captain and Captain Scott, and the Arctic regions in 182, and in part of a meteorite which he brought from the Arctic regions in 182, and in Peary declared that from his study of the competition between Amundsen and Scott he helieved the Englishman had also been successful in reaching the South Pole about the middle of January, or about a month later than Amundsen reached it.

The polar celebration to-night was under the auspiese of the Peary Arctic Club, the American Geographical Society, and the American Museum of Natural History. It was held in the museum building and attended by a large number of explorers and scientists. Not souly Admiral Pearys achievement, but the discovery of the South Pole and the inauguration of the new Crocker Land expedition were objects of the celebration. President Henry Fairfield Gosborne, of the museum, presided and Zenas Crane presented Admiral Peary with the medal. It was a five-pointed star of sections of the great meteorite, which Admiral Peary brought from Cape York. In the centre of the star around a blue-white diamond is the insertlytion: "Peary Arctic Club to Robert E. Peary, April 6, 1912."

THE STORY OF A GREAT TOBACCO

Origin of One of the Biggest Successes in the History of Smoking

"IT'S DIFFERENT!"

How a Nation-Wide Popularity Began in One Man's Pipe

They tell an interesting story of the origin of one of the biggest successes in the history of tobacco manufacture.

When the founder of the R. A. Pat terson Tobacco Company invented the terson Tobacco Company invented the tobacco process that has since borne his name, his aim was to so treat a tobacco that it not only would not "bite," that it not only would not "bite," that it not only would be harmless, but that it would be absolutely safeguarding in its effects on the mouth and throat. The sliced plug and roil cut put out under the Patterson process soon achieved a wide popularity which it holds in the fallest degree. It this day of representffillest degree, to this day, of represent-ing clean, pure, honest tobacco at its

One day the manager of the Patterson manufacturing department slipped into his pipe some of the Burley tobacco that had been granulated in the process of manufacture. He liked this granulated form so well that for two years he made this his personal smoke. But a good thing has to be passed along, and this man finally yielded to the temptation of finding out from his friends whether his taste was peculiar or whether he really had made a "find". The result was that before many months he was embarrassed by peremptory requests from many quarters for "more of that wonderful granulated Burley." "It's different," they said, "the most perfect pipe smoke we ever tried."

Then came an experiment with special bags of this "discovery." In a short time every available bag was gone. It was in this way that the original granulated Burley began its career. It was in this way that Tuxedo tobacco, now famous over the whole land in the green tin, began its astonishing success. So quick was this popularity that shipments were for years never better than a month behind the orders. While unable to fill orders it was impossible to tisk advertising. It is offen now, with greatly extended factory facilities, that the Patterson Company is venturing to tell the Tuxedo story—to carry forward with printer's ink the good work done by enthusiastic smokers—and by Tutalities!
